

A 6x10 heatmap visualization of the MNIST dataset. The color scale ranges from dark blue (low values) to yellow (high values). The digits are clearly visible against the background.

0                      2                      4                      6                      8                      10