A – Man and his Occupations

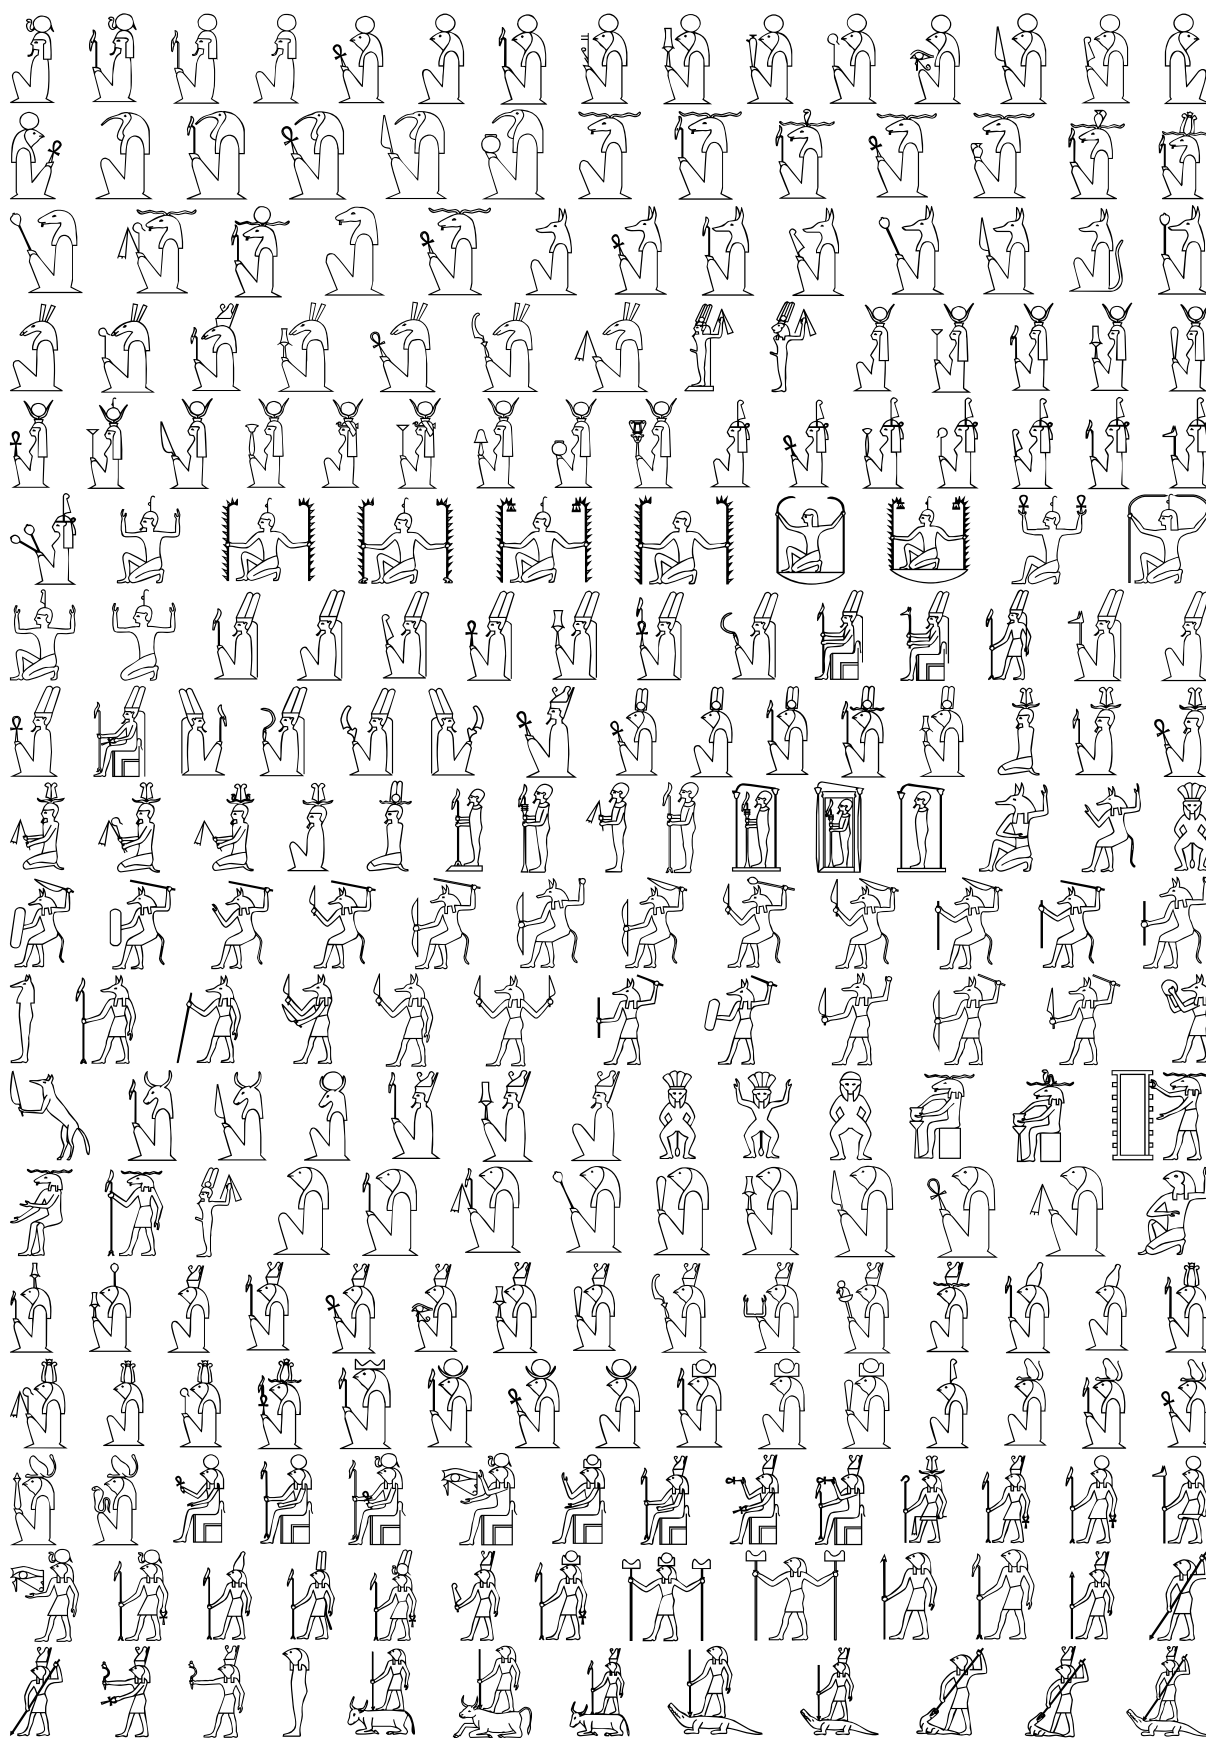

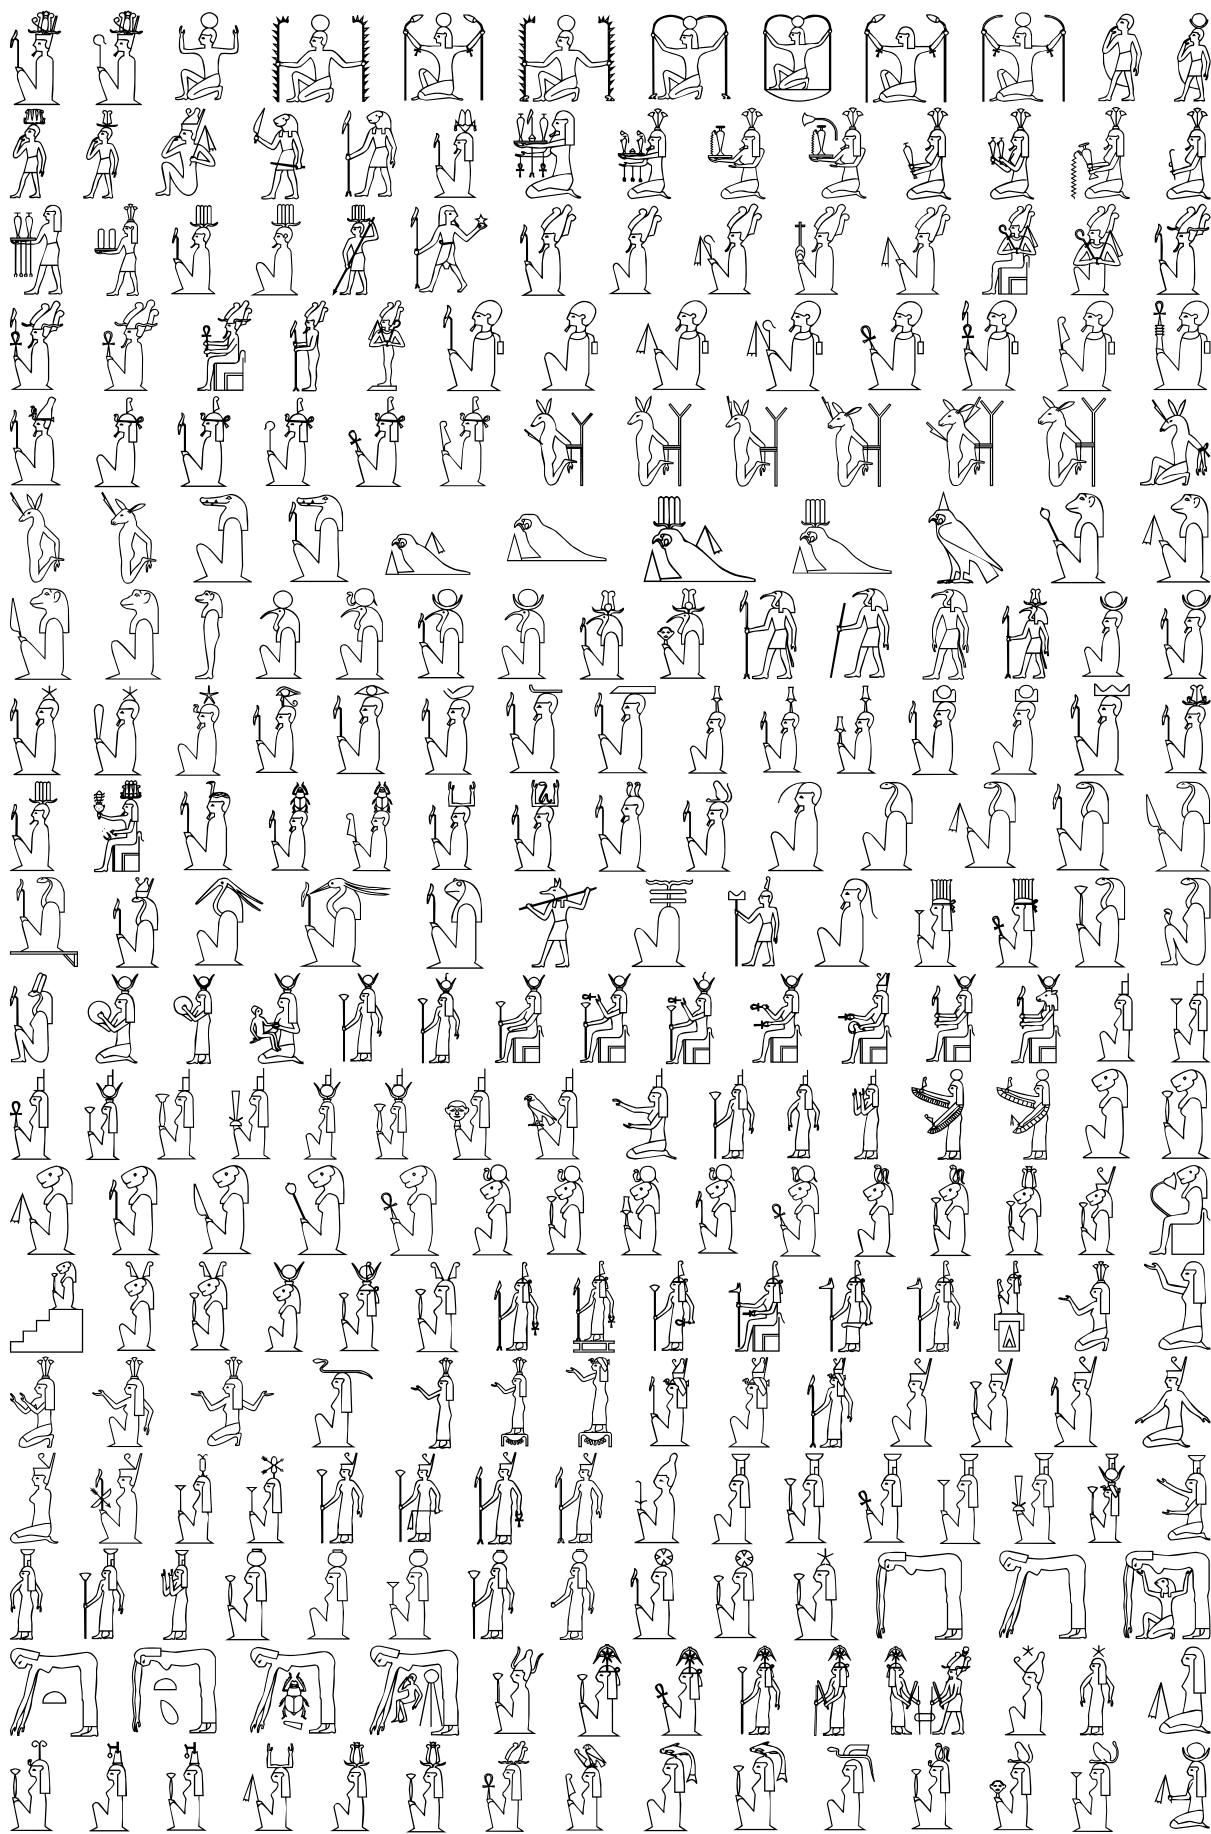

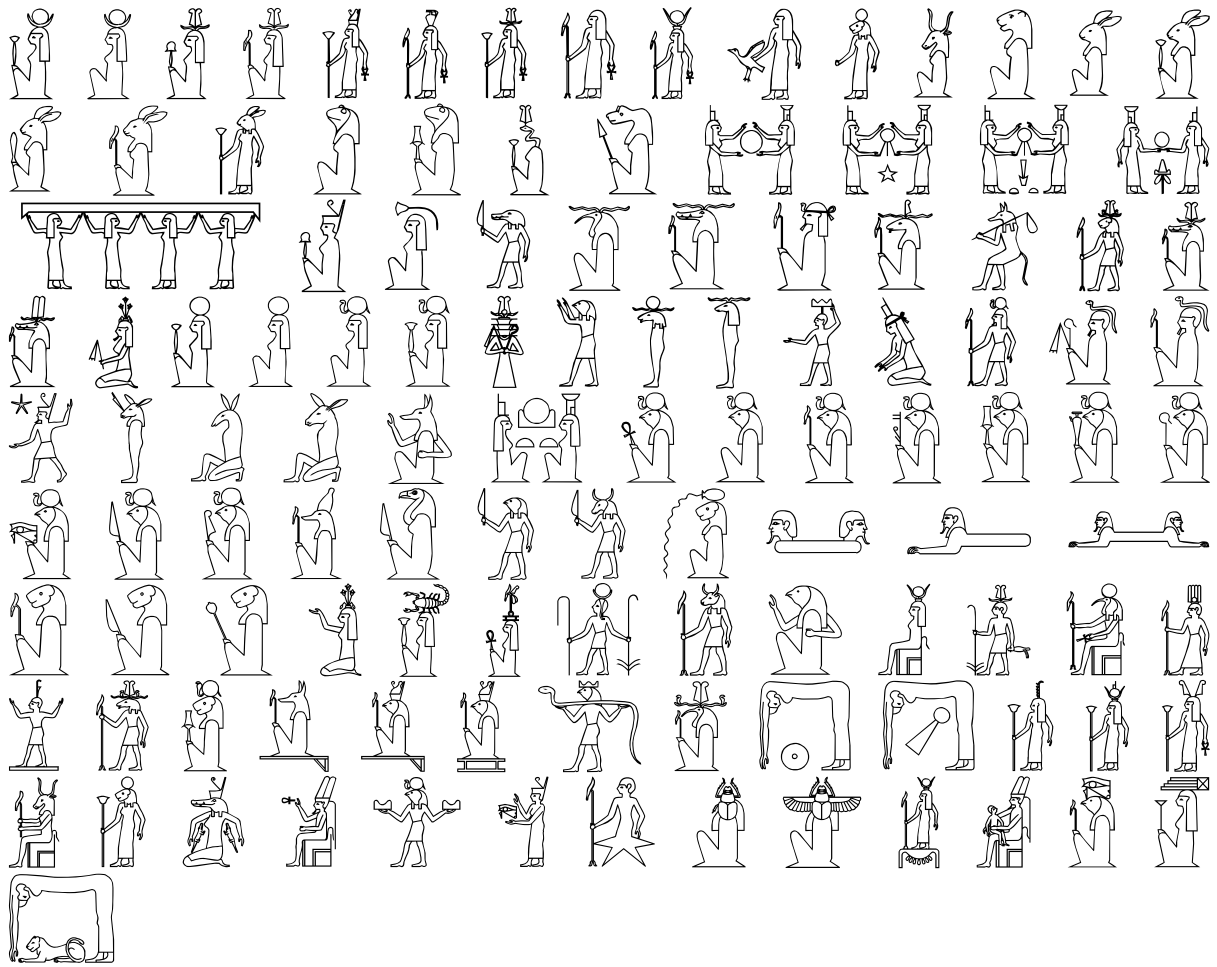

A 10x15 grid of 150 minimalist line drawings of human figures. Each figure is composed of simple black outlines on a white background. The figures are depicted in a wide variety of poses and activities, ranging from standing and walking to sitting, kneeling, and lying down. Some figures are holding objects, while others are in dynamic, expressive poses. The style is reminiscent of mid-20th-century modernist art, emphasizing form and movement through simplified lines. The grid is organized into 10 rows and 15 columns, with each cell containing a single figure. The figures are not identical, but they share a common visual language of clean, unadorned lines. The overall effect is a comprehensive visual vocabulary of human movement and posture, presented in a systematic and accessible format.
